Conductor James Kennedy, of the Seaboard, was here on court matters yesterday, and in his spare moments was seen playing marbles with kids on the streets. The latter ruled him out of the game, however, for "dribbling" and Mr. Kennedy felt very sore about the matter until Monk Harrison informed him that a man had to act on the square in Live Oak, even in playing marbles with boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutto, of Jacksonville, came to Live Oak yesterday in an automobile. Mrs. Hutto, who was formerly Miss Minshaw, and well known to our people, informed the reporter that the trip here was a most enjoyable one. They were accompanied by Miss Lolia Nolan, of that city, and the three returned this morning.

Mrs. Geo. E. Porter, Sr., is expected to return from Leon tonight. The colonel seemed to be in bad humor this morning, and took to task the reporter for some of his apparent delinquencies in not reporting certain improvements, etc., in different parts of the city. However, we opine that the return of Mrs. Porter will put the colonel in good humor again, and perhaps he will take us out in his automobile and show us just how Live Oak is growing on the outskirts.

The McCullers brothers have purchased from Dr. White a lot on Howard street, near Conner, and will at once proceed to erect thereon a two-story brick business block, 40x90 feet. Howard street seems to be on the boom of late, and Ohio avenue will have to watch her laurels. But it makes no difference in what part of the city improvements are made. Live Oak will continue to grow, and there is no abatement to progress.

Miss Ida Platt, one of the talented pupils of the Southern Business College, has secured a lucrative position as stenographer for a business firm in Tampa, and leaves this evening to assume the duties. Miss Platt has not as yet finished her course in the college, but is so far advanced that the excellent position awaits her, and President Hatton and Principal Stephens have given her a hearty endorsement. We are only too glad to note the success of students of this college in securing situations. It is a noticeable fact that not one of the graduates fail to secure honorable and lucrative positions, and not one of them has thus far failed to fill a position with honor and credit. Miss Platt will be missed from this section, but all will rejoice to know that her fondest ambitions have been realized.

The City Pharmacy has recently changed hands, and Drs. Brown and Mills, the efficient pharmacist, re-Thomason are now sole owners. Mr. mains with the firm, and V. Granberg dispenses sodawater to thirsty customers. The retention of these two latter named employees, is a pleasure to the public. They are faithful and competent, and enjoy the confidence of the entire community.

When you need Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry, don't fail to see my line. It will please you. J. D. Radford. 17d2t-w2t

The band concert and skating contest at the Auditorium last night was largely attended, and the affair was a delightful one. The band boys acquitted themselves admirably, repeating the pieces played, and many were the compliments showered upon them. The Fifth City Band will be one of the leading musical organizations in the state in a short time. The members are young men who hold high social positions in the community, most of them have money to expend in advancing their musical ambitions, and they will do more for Live Oak than Live Oak will ever do for them. In the skating contest, Miss Hattie Barton won the girl's prize, and Chas E. Groover, Jr., the boy's prize. We learn the band contemplates giving a special musical entertainment in the near future, and it will be liberally patronized. Let every person be ready at all times to speak a good word for the band.

See my line of flat silverware. It will improve the looks of your table. I carry only the best grade. J. D. Radford. 17d2t-w2t

The graduating class of the High School, which consists of Miss Blanche Wolfe and Romero Sealey, were entertained last evening by Miss Sue Hemming and Miss Vivian Evans at the home of the former. The occasion was a grand one, and will be long remembered by all present. We opine that joys mixed with sorrow, prevail upon such occasions as this with the young people. Joys because their schoolmates have reached the zenith in school life, and sorrows because they have to part with them. Yet, the celebrating of the event is always on the joyous side, and the best of cheer prevails. Last evening Misses Wolfe, Haddock, Sperry, Blume and Adams, and Messrs. Surrency, Drew, Hopson, Tucker and Leslie, and Prof. Edwards gathered at the palatial home of A. D. Hemming to do honors to the graduating class. A new feature introduced was the writing of the biographies of the class by the guests, the gentlemen writing their opinions of the lady, and vice versa. It was a unique innovation thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Adams, saleslady at the Worth-Stevens Company's store, recited some selections that were superb. She is a gifted elocutionist, and elicited the plaudits of all. Games were indulged in, music rendered, and dainty refreshments served in two courses. All present unite in saying that this was indeed a grand social affair. In the prizes awarded, Col. Leslie won the first and Miss Cora Speering the consolation.

News from Beachville.

As I have seen nothing from Beachville lately, I will send you a few lines.

The farmers in this section of the county are very busy trying to keep down "general green." Crops are looking well, considering the late cold.

Miss Susie Timmerman, who has been spending some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Agee, returned to her home at Houston last Sunday.

Wonder what young man is looking so sad since she went away?

Mr. J. R. Beach and family, of Tyler, Fla., spent last Sunday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Beach, of Beachville.

Mr. J. J. Pinkham, one of the oldest citizens of this county, has been in very feeble health for some time, but we trust that he will soon be able to be around again.

We had a nice rain, which was gladly welcomed by the farmers.

The Beachville school closed out last Friday, May 10th. It was one of the few which made the eighty per cent average and got six months of school. We had a fine teacher and one who tried to do his duty. Mr. Clifford F. Hall, of O'Brien. He gave perfect satisfaction throughout the entire six months. The people wanted some way to show their gratitude and carried dinner to the school house on the last day.

Wonder what young lady is grieving so because the school is out? I will ring off and come again next time. X. Y. Z.

No matter how old they grow, these actresses never get over the marrying habit.
